Redbud is hosting one of the hikes for this event on the Tribute Trail. Join Susan Schreiber, past National Park naturalist, as we loop from downtown Nevada City in front of the Miners Foundry and back to town over the Pine Street bridge. The hike has some downhill to Deer Creek and uphill back to town. We will see creative and artful work from local trail artists. We will be reading naturalists signs on plants and human history. We will most likely see dogwoods in bloom, bleeding hearts, and wild radish. And possibly, the Buckeye trees will be starting to bloom. The trail is mostly in the shade with a beautiful river crossing on a suspension bridge. Duration: 1.5 hours
